

Andy Thomson, Candidate for State House District 91, Received the Endorsement from the Florida Medical Association

BOCA RATON, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- State House District 91 candidate Andy Thomson received the endorsement of the Florida Medical Association. The FMA represents more than 25,000 medical professionals across Florida.

Founded in 1874, The FMA advocates for physicians and their patients - promoting public health, ensuring the highest standards of medical practice, and enhancing the quality and availability of health care in the Sunshine State.

"I am humbled to have the support of Florida's physicians. In the Legislature, I'll be a champion for public health and access to affordable and quality healthcare and I will work to ensure the highest standards of medicine and care for Floridians of all ages," said Andy Thomson.

Andy now has the support of over 30 organizations and elected officials, including prior endorsements by the Palm Beach County Police Benevolent Association, IAFF Local 1560, State Senator Lori Berman, State Senator Shervin Jones, State Senator Tina Polsky, State Senator Bobby Powell, Current District 91 State Representative Emily Slosberg-King, State Representative Jervonte "Tae" Edmonds and State Representative Joe Casello. Andy was elected to the Boca Raton City Council during a special election in August 2018 and was re-elected without opposition in March 2020.

Andy Thomson

Andy currently serves as Vice-Chair of the Boca Raton Community Redevelopment Agency that governs Boca's downtown. He also serves on the governing board of the Palm Beach Transportation Authority.

Before his election to the city council, Andy served on the Palm Beach County Transportation Planning Agency's Citizens Advisory Committee, Vice-Chair, City of Boca Raton Education Task Force, and as a member of the City of Boca Raton Community Advisory Panel.

Andy graduated with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Georgia Tech, where he played on the Ramblin' Wreck football team. He received his J.D. from the University of Miami School of Law. He practices law with the Boca Raton law firm of Baritz & Colman LLP, where he helps resolve business disputes. In addition, Andy is an adjunct professor at FAU, teaching local and state government. He met his wife Joanna during their first day of class at the University of Miami, and they have been together ever since. They were married in 2009 and are raising their five young children in Boca Raton. Andy coaches his kids in baseball, basketball, football, and soccer.
