EINPresswire.com/ -- IndustryARC, in its latest report, predicts that the Chicken Feed Market size is estimated to reach $156.3 billion by 2027, growing at a CAGR of 6.2% during the forecast period 2022-2027. Chicken feed is nothing but the feed composed especially for chickens raised in animal husbandries. In order to meet the sky-rocketing demand for poultry products like meat and eggs worldwide, enlarging poultry productivity has become necessary more than ever. Therefore, chicken feed has become an inextricable part of poultry farming in recent years. In addition to that, many poultry owners have started using tube feeders to keep the seeds dry and clean and their quality intact. Calcium iodate and ethylene diamine dihydriodide are two of the most renowned additives used in chicken feed. Poultry birds including chickens find themselves incapable of digesting the diet properly which leads to infections such as pathogenic avian influenza. The report offers a complete analysis of the market, its major segments, growth factors, trends, drivers and challengers, key players and more.
