We'll be throwing a blended festival in 2022, and we want you to be part of it! So, starting in May, we'll be teasing off the line up for the next Blended Festival. We'll be revealing one artist per half term, so for example over the summer we'll be announcing artists for both Summer and Autumn months, with Winter and Spring terms enjoying their own lineup throughout the year. We'll also be adding in some extra special guests throughout the year too. So for example, we've got honorary co-headliners playing at this year's festival in We Can Do It! – so be sure to get down to Reading Festival to see the boys. And we're looking at a range of other special guests too, so be sure to check back often to see who they may be. Remember when you are purchasing your Blended Festival 2022 tickets use the promo code "RSVP" for discounts on the Blended Festival Tickets.

Blended Music Festival Tickets and Passes

We're also re-branding our music festival tickets into something a little more inclusive. We'll still be selling the same types of tickets as before – VIP, Seating, Walk-Up, and General Admission – but we're changing the name of the most popular ticket type to Blended Festival Pass. This pass will give you access to the main stages of all three Blended Festival locations and is sure to get you to the best acts at the earliest opportunity. Alternatively, if you're looking for something a little more specific, you can also opt for a VIP Pass to get you closer to your favorite acts. This pass includes a special VIP queue, a dedicated entry point, and more. Discount codes and Promo Codes for Blended Festival can be shared with family and friends for additional discounts on tickets.
