It’s incredible to see the growth of VoDaVi over the past years, and I cannot wait to see what the next 13 years has in store”

Chris Friel

“It’s incredible to see the growth of VoDaVi over the past years, and I cannot wait to see what the next 13 years has in store,” said Chris Friel, CEO and Co-Founder. “What started as a small company start-up operation has now grown into an organization powering technology solutions to the local communities we serve and creating jobs for others who share our passion and know that they can come to a place where it’s all about making an impact.”

VoDaVi initially began as a start-up operation out of the cofounders’ home in 2009. Since then, the company has doubled in size and is consistently growing the VoDaVi brand. VoDaVi has become the technology partner for many businesses and organizations throughout New England who rely heavily on technology to run their day-to-day business operations effectively and efficiently.

VoDaVi specializes in all facets of technology to ensure that our clients have the guidance, coverage and support they need to meet their business technology challenges. Customers know that VoDaVi’s Managed Services bring all of their IT support services and infrastructure management assets together in one place with one view. VoDaVi provides truly end-to-end system solutions to their customers, ensuring vital technology investments are available to meet the demands of innovative organizations that leverage technology to deliver better outcomes for their stakeholders. VoDaVi clients receive the benefit of seamless technology services and support from a single provider focused on their success.

As a single-source technology partner, VoDaVi provides collaboration, communication and technology solutions that leverage their voice, data, video, and security expertise to deliver enhanced solutions and provide for an even smoother customer experience from design to on-going support of their customers technology estate.
