

Mesopotamian Writers will Gather and Discuss Their Work at the Chaldean Cultural Center

A half-day conference with presentations from poets, novelists, journalists, academics and language researchers on Chaldeans and Mesopotamia

WEST BLOOMFIELD, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, September 13, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Chaldean Cultural Center has organized a half-day conference for writers of Mesopotamian ancestry to meet and present their work to the public. The conference will be held in-person with an online option, in the same building as the Chaldean Museum, the first and only of its kind to dedicate its exhibits to Chaldean culture, art, and traditions, past and present. The museum is a state-of-the-art facility composed of five galleries that tell the distinctive and powerful story of the Chaldeans.

The name of the conference is inspired by the Aramaic phrase that means “between two rivers,” Beth Nahrain. This name designates the region around the Euphrates and Tigris rivers in Mesopotamia.

The world's first and only Chaldean Museum

The featured writers include poets, novelists, journalists, academics, and language researchers:

Ann Esshaki — Presenting spoken word poetry - Genocide & Diaspora of the Chaldean Community

Mahir Awrahem — How to Use Technology and Social Media to Teach Sooruth (Dialect of Aramaic)

Jacob Bacall — Documenting Chaldean History

Roy Gessford — Why Chaldeans Must Write

Thamur Hindo — Mesopotamia: Its Southern and Northern Kingdoms

Weam Namou — Women in Ancient Mesopotamia

Khairy Foumia — The Life of Patriarch Joseph Marouf II from Nestorian to the Catholic Church

DATE: Saturday, November 5, 2022

TIME: 8:30 am – 1:00 pm with an optional museum tour at 1:00 pm
