Troy Elser, Partner at Seventy2 Capital, stated, "We are proud to welcome Dave and Craig to the team; their experience working in the high-net-worth space is a strong asset, and we're excited to continue the expansion of our Hunt Valley office."

David comes to Seventy2 Capital after thirteen years at Wells Fargo Advisors, where he served as Senior Vice President – Investments. Earlier in his career, he was First Vice President at Smith Barney and a Financial Advisor at Paine Webber. He is a Certified Divorce Financial Analyst

(CDFA) and has a primary focus in family and business planning.

Craig also served as Vice President – Investments at Wells Fargo Advisors before joining Seventy2 Capital. With nearly thirty years' experience, he has developed a comprehensive approach to investment management, alternative investment management, retirement planning, asset allocation, and multi-generational wealth transfer. He has particular expertise in investment selection as well as fine art and collectible services.

When asked about his new role, David said, "I am looking forward to moving into this new chapter in my career. Making the move to independence with Seventy2 Capital allows me to better personalize my services." Craig added, "Throughout my career, I have found that I can best serve my clients with a team approach. Joining Seventy2 Capital allows me to make that change to independence while still being part of a close-knit team, allowing me to share and learn from others' best practices."
