

The X NFT Collection Launches With A Commanding Floor Price

Top powerhouse NFT collectors and leading entrepreneurs “ape-in” as the founding Legendary Commanders of the Collection.

SAINT PETERSBURG, FL, USA,
September 16, 2022 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- blocqX (Executive Producer) announced today that the X NFT flag is firmly planted and their dynamic community is launched and growing.

The X Legendary Commanders

They recently honored four of the influential names that have purchased the Genesis Legendary Commanders and thus catapulted the collections floor price that has traded over 40 ETH to date.

The Legendary Commanders are selling at an average of 16 ETH (Ethereum) which is over $25,000 per Digital Collectible at the time of writing.”

Sean Marra, Executive Producer of The X NFT and CEO of blocqX

These are notable innovators, investors, and hyper-successful business leaders in both web2 & web3 businesses and now hold the coveted title X NFT Legendary Commanders.

Each asset is one-of-one and built by a team of 3D artists led by former Activision Blizzard Lead Designer Daniel DiLallo (Aka: Lt. Dan) using the same powerful UE5 (Unreal Engine 5) technology that is being used by major movie studios like Warner Bros. Pictures (Matrix Resurrections), and gaming studios like Epic games who built Fortnite, Gears of War and many other triple AAA titles.

Legendary Commanders are by invite only to key business leaders and web3 innovators who are proven in helping build and further legitimize the Digital Collectible industry and propel it forward.

"Their individual track records of success are amazing and when combined are nothing short of astounding," said Creator & Lead Designer Daniel DiLallo. Further adding "At the X NFT you truly are the company you keep."

And we are humbled to introduce you to The X NFT founding Legendary Commanders."

Known as one of the most respected personalities in the NFT community, Sam, like many others before him, began his journey into the world of NFTs via the EOS blockchain game Upland. Making a huge whale splash on the scene, Sam purchased "Grand Central Station" in Manhattan, NYC, Upland for a cool $21,000.

This led to an interview with TD on the UPX Podcast and a friendship was immediately formed. A few months later, he and TD came up with the concept for what would eventually become NFTGamerTV. Since then, Sam (aka Sany) has established himself as a staple in the WAX and ETH

Continually pushing the limits of his business and what is truly possible, Calvin is always seeking people who are far more successful than he is, which keeps him thinking bigger and learning more.

There's no hype machine. This project has been quietly building for years and has been "the best-kept secret" among the select invite-only lists of who's who in business & technology. Interest has been immense, since going live on the Ethereum blockchain with big names scooping them up as soon as they're approved to join. The already short list.. is getting shorter fast.

Who are the remaining 6 Legendary Commanders?

Only time will tell... so stay tuned for further updates on this constantly developing community and soon-to-be-minted next 2 Legendary Commanders, Sun Tzu & George Washington.
