

South Carolina Gains New Woman-Owned, Veteran-Owned Mosquito Mary's Franchise Location

The mosquito and tick control company announced its latest territory signing in South Carolina, marking the 19th operational location.

CAMDEN, SOUTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, September 14, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- More enjoyable outdoor time is coming to Kershaw County and surrounding areas in South Carolina this year thanks to a fresh franchise deal inked with Mosquito Mary's and its newest franchise partner, Julianne Rubino.

Julianne Rubino signed with the mosquito and tick control company in August, gearing up to kick off operations this month. An air force veteran, Julianne Rubino is excited to launch a women-owned, veteran-owned company and bring Mosquito Mary's services to the area. She is not alone in the endeavor. Together with her husband, Dan Rubino, and their three children, the family fits in perfectly to the family-esque Mosquito Mary's branding and company atmosphere.

Julianne Rubino draws on nearly 18 years of business experience as she steps into the franchise. She works at the Westinghouse Nuclear Facility in Hopkins, South Carolina, but is pursuing business ownership with Mosquito Mary's.

Mosquito Mary's has experienced strong growth since it first launched into franchising, boasting
