

Kixie To Exhibit at the RE+ 2022 Conference

ANAHEIM, CA, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2022 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Kixie, creators of the PowerCall sales engagement software, announced today they will be exhibiting at the RE+ conference in Anaheim, CA from September 19-22, 2022. Kixie representatives are looking forward to meeting with renewable energy professionals and learning about the latest trends in the industry. This will be Kixie's first time exhibiting at this conference, and they are happy to be participating in this event.

RE+ is the largest clean energy conference in North America, drawing over 19,000 professionals from over 110 countries, and from all areas of the solar power and renewable energy sectors. Attendees can look forward to hearing from industry experts and networking with other clean energy professionals, with over 24 hours of networking events in store.

Kixie will be at the RE+ 2022 conference, sharing insights on business to consumer communications, specifically on how to improve outbound and inbound calling efforts for solar power companies, using technology like:

- Local presence dialing for 500% higher connection rates
- SMS automation for set-and-forget structured outreach
- Multi-line auto dialing to make 10x more calls
- Voicemail drop saves up to 2 hours every day with automated voicemails
