Global Remote Deposit Capture Market Report

Remote deposit capture (RDC) is a technology-based solution offered by banks to manage the check depositing process remotely. It includes verifying the details and images, scanning the checks, and sharing the deposits with financial institutions. It allows customers to send scanned images of checks through an encrypted internet connection. It helps improve customer convenience, reduce risk, streamline business operations, provide 24/7 availability, enhance cash flow, and eliminate trips to the bank. As a result, RDC is gaining immense traction among small, medium, and large enterprises.

COVID-19 Impact on Market: (Positive Impact)

As the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis takes over the world, we are continuously tracking the changes in the markets, as well as the industry behaviors of the consumers globally and our estimates about the latest market trends and forecasts are being done after considering the impact of this pandemic.

Global Remote Deposit Capture Market Trends and Drivers:

The global remote deposit capture market is primarily driven by the increasing adoption of smartphones. Moreover, the escalating demand for RDC due to its high-speed, convenient, hassle-free services and instant notification feature for deposited funds is positively influencing the market growth. Besides this, numerous technological advancements, such as the integration of artificial intelligence (AI) and the Internet of Things (IoT) to make secure payments, provide quick customer service, and enhance efficacy, are other major growth-inducing factors.

Additionally, the rising digitization to improve core processing capabilities by remotely depositing gift checks, paychecks, and refund checks and eliminating the need for bank visits has catalyzed market growth. Furthermore, the surging adoption of data analytics capabilities that enable real-time detection and help reduce risks and fraud is contributing to the market growth. Other factors, including the rising awareness about social distancing amid the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) outbreak and supportive government initiatives to promote digitization, are also anticipated to create a favorable market outlook.
