Dubbed the “Uber for taxes,” Taxfyle set out to transform professional tax prep in 2015 with an easy-to-use platform that simplified the process of filing personal or business taxes. Taxfyle also offers robust B2B solutions — Taxfyle Outsourcing for CPA firms, and Worklayer for the enterprise segment. Among Taxfyle's clients are a Big Four accounting firm and a cadre of top 300 CPA firms. In recent years, Taxfyle cemented strategic partnerships with Bench Accounting and Freshbooks to bring a tax-filing component to the two leading bookkeeping platforms in North America.

The new hires, recruited to head up divisions in marketing, human resources, sales, and design, are the first recruits in a hiring spree expected to expand Taxfyle's team with nearly 85 new employees over the next two years. This expansive recruiting process also includes promotions from within the company.

Taxfyle's new hires include Brennan Birkinbine as sales director, Tatiana Leon Iriarte as Product Manager and Alfred Guerra as In-House Counsel. Birkinbine has four years of experience at Intuit, managing various sized teams. Leon's one-and-a-half years at Rappibank, as head of product, makes her a key recruit. Taxfyle's main focus is growing the Pro Relations team to add tax experts and build upon the relationship between Taxfyle and the tax professional community.

"As Taxfyle continues to disrupt the accounting and tax space, we are pleased to announce the expansion of our team and the move into a larger office," Taxfyle co-founder and CEO Richard Lavina said. "These key hires and our new space will take us to the next level as we continue to grow and transcend the industry."

Taxfyle ranked in the top 15% on the Inc. 5000 list for two consecutive years. The South Florida Business Journal also recognized it as one of the fastest growing companies in South Florida.

"During the pandemic, thousands of new people were drawn to the Taxfyle app for its virtual, affordable, and convenient tax prep services," Taxfyle COO and co-founder Michael Mouriz said. "Our talented team made it one of our best years yet and we look forward to expanding so even more people can rely on our platform and its workforce."

"We have turned the financial professional services industry into something no one could have imagined," said Will Sahatdjian, Taxfyle co-founder and Chief Technology Officer. "Our expanded expert team will allow us to continue making these services more accessible to people across the country."
