Tidal places No. 81 of Canada's Top Growing Companies

Canada's Top Growing Companies ranks Canadian companies on three-year revenue growth. Tidal Migrations earned its spot with three-year growth of 582%.

“Our customers are global organizations that are tired of cloud migration projects that go over budget or go over time. We have seen tremendous growth over the past three years because increasingly, companies are ready to unblock themselves to maximize business growth and achieve their company's goals through cloud transformation,” said David Colebatch, CEO of Tidal Migrations. “By accelerating their ability to improve their service-to-customers, our software products have gained traction with companies who are keen to use the power of cloud-native services.”
