MILPITAS, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, September 20, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Pluto7 Consulting Inc. today announced that it has achieved SAP silver partner status in the SAP® PartnerEdge® program. This is a clear indication of the high level of quality Pluto7 provides to businesses using SAP solutions.

Pluto7 offers data migration solutions and services to provide businesses with robust analytics and scalability with AI/ML. Demand sensing is a core function of today's streamlined supply chains and enterprises are increasingly aware of the growing dependence on their data to gain insights that predict consumer demand, product shortages, and global disruptions in the near and long term. And, as the importance of supply chain connectivity increases, supply chain leaders are looking for ways to centralize their data and get it in motion to thrive on rapid change and cushion their operations with key demand-sensing signals right at their fingertips. This is made possible with Pluto7 solutions that help customers evaluate and analyze the sources with more context to make agile and informed decisions.

Businesses today are also eager to work in a multi-cloud environment as this gives them an opportunity to leverage the variety of cloud instances that suit their varied business needs. The new partnership with SAP opens the door to a wider ecosystem of businesses looking for a trusted advisor to guide their data migration and supply chain needs.

“Businesses that use SAP technologies are transforming at a rapid pace and can benefit from leveraging AI and ML in their supply chain processes to improve customer experience,” said Manju Devadas, CEO of Pluto7. “Pluto7’s solutions and experience combined with our new partnership with SAP help the ecosystem at large to reach new heights.”
