NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, USA,
September 20, 2022 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- The Global Yeast Market size is expected to reach USD 9.20 Billion in 2030 and register a CAGR of 9.7% over the forecast period, according to the latest report by Reports and Data. Some of the key factors driving global yeast market revenue growth include rising demand for and production of bakery products such as biscuits, cookies, pizza, bread, cakes etc., rising consumption of alcoholic beverages, and increasing spending on healthy organic foods. Yeast is a type of single-celled fungi. Yeast is a good source of protein, vitamin B, and minerals such as selenium, chromium, zinc, copper, and others. Yeasts can be found on plant surfaces and in soils as well as are frequently found in sugary mediums such as fruits and flower nectar.

Yeast is widely used in food, beverages, feed, and other industries. Food segment accounted for largest revenue share in the global market in 2020. This can be attributed to increasing application of yeast in the food industry for production of nutritional supplements, alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages, canned and frozen foods, bakery, beverages, snacks, and others. Increasing demand for alcoholic beverages, technological advancements in food processing technology, increasing disposable income in developing countries, and rising demand for yeast-based feed are some key factors expected to continue to drive revenue growth of the global yeast market over the forecast period.
