Governance solutions, including FinOps, SecOps, and CloudOps. With CoreStack's AI-powered multi-cloud governance solutions, enterprises can address the most pressing industry needs for a single view of cloud consumption, performance, and compliance to streamline cloud operations, optimize cloud cost management and enhance security posture across multiple cloud environments.

CoreStack's NextGen Cloud Governance solutions provide transformative value to enterprises:

- CoreStack FinOps provides an organization-wide view of cloud spend as well as granular details by cloud, account, subscription, department, tag, region, inventory, and application.

- CoreStack SecOps provides a continuous cloud security posture and allows enterprises to gain visibility and insights into threats and vulnerabilities by region, resource, type, and age.

□ CoreStack CloudOps allows enterprises to break operational siloes by providing a unified and comprehensive view of key cloud operational metrics.

Gitex Global (Gulf Information Technology Exhibition) in Dubai is one of the world's most influential gatherings in the tech industry. Attended by over 250,000 people from over 140 countries, the event brings together many of the sector's brightest minds and greatest innovators to discuss the state of the space, showcase new products and identify emerging opportunities.

"CoreStack helps enterprises stay ahead in the ever-changing world of digital transformation. Companies are looking for solutions to harness the power of the cloud in an efficient, cost-effective, and secure manner," said Murli Mohan, Managing Director, IMEA at CoreStack. "We are excited to be present at GITEX 2022, Dubai, with our partner Oracle and with the Washington State Department of Commerce to showcase our NextGen Cloud Governance solutions that enable our customers and partners to navigate their cloud journey effectively."
