

Psychedelics Today Launches “Psychedelics Tonight”

Psychedelics Today has partnered with ALTRD.TV, the streaming home for original content focused on progressive culture

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA,
September 22, 2022 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Psychedelics Today is launching its brand new, half-hour show on ALTRD.TV called “Psychedelics Tonight” on Monday, September 26th at 6 p.m PDT, where co-founders and co-hosts Joe Moore and Kyle Buller dive deep into the history, regulations, culture, Indigenous and modern uses and future applications for psychedelic compounds, pairing hard journalism with whimsical psychedelia.

New episodes will drop every Monday through October and will be available to stream for free on all major platforms (Apple, Android, Roku, Plex) through the ALTRD.TV app or online (no subscription required).

This fun, late night-style show educates audiences on compounds that aren't as widely known - including tryptamines, novel compounds and ibogaine - delivered through a cultural lens.”

Joe Moore - CEO & Co-Founder, Psychedelics Today

“While Michael Pollan has introduced mainstream audiences to the idea of changing their minds with psychedelics with his book - and now Netflix series - “How to Change Your Mind,” we wanted to dive deeper with “Psychedelics Tonight.” This fun, late night-style show educates audiences on compounds that aren't as widely known - including tryptamines, novel compounds and ibogaine - delivered through a cultural lens,” said Joe Moore, CEO and Co-Founder of Psychedelics Today.

The show was conceived and produced with a broad audience in mind: those interested in alternative healing modalities outside of prescription drugs; those suffering from, or who have substance use issues within their family; and those generally curious and interested in psychedelics, an ever-growing population as psychedelics continue to gain mainstream appeal.

“As both an educational platform and a media outlet, we have collectively interviewed hundreds of industry leaders, scientists, researchers, shamans, and trained thousands of clinicians. Our aim with this show is to bring both of those disciplines together to create content for viewers with an interest in the culture and history of psychedelics and eager to learn more,” continued Mr. Moore.

Guests for Season 1 include:

- Paul Mombey Indaki, President of the NGO, NEO-BWITI
- Squamish First Nation Chief Ian Campbell
- Clearmind Medicine Director of Research and Development Amit Schwartz
- PsyBio Therapeutics CEO Evan Levine
- Universal Ibogaine CEO Nick Karos

“We found a home with ALTRD.TV because we are aligned in their vision to bring education about transformative substances to the masses, and are leading the cultural conversation in the fields of alternative content on their respective platforms,” said Kyle Buller, Psychedelics Today Co-Founder.
