

McNabola Law Group Secures 7-Figure Result in Wrongful Death Case

Renowned Chicago-based law firm represented family of Jacob Russell Stewart, young man killed in tragic tractor-trailer accident in Olney, Illinois in 2017

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES, September 23, 2022 / EINPresswire.com/ -- (September 22, 2022) -- Following nearly five years of complex litigation, the McNabola Law Group ("MLG") has concluded a federal lawsuit for the 2017 wrongful death of Jacob Russell Stewart. Mr. Stewart was a 27-year-old father whose car was one of two vehicles hit head-on by a tractor-trailer that had crossed the centerline on Route 50 in Olney, Illinois. He was killed instantly when his car burst into flames from the impact. The driver of the tractor-trailer, Walter Pollock, was proven to be driving under the influence of drugs at the time of the head-on collision.

MLG Partners Don McGarrah and Mark McNabola represented the Stewart family and his only son, who was just one-and-a-half years old when his father was killed.

"This was a sudden and horrible tragedy caused by a negligent semi-truck driver," said Mr. McGarrah. "We are grateful to be able to secure a significant recovery that will provide substantial assistance to Jacob's family, going forward."

Attorneys McGarrah and McNabola established that the truck driver, Mr. Pollock, now deceased, was driving under the influence of methamphetamines at the time of the incident. Additionally, MLG uncovered evidence showing the company that hired Mr. Pollock knew -- or should have known -- he was a small, independent operator with limited financial resources who did not have a "Satisfactory" safety rating.

Added Mr. McNabola, "The resolution of this unthinkable loss was unfortunately delayed due to the pandemic. Despite the wait, we are glad that we were able to secure a very favorable result for the Stewart family."
