

(Video) Iran: The Sixth Day of Nationwide Uprising Across the Country

In Tehran, repressive forces fired tear gas and also opened fire at demonstrators while they were chanting, "Mullahs must get lost" and "down with Khamenei."

PARIS, FRANCE, September 23, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Capturing the governor's office, setting fire to the police station, repressive forces' vehicles, and pictures of Khamenei and Soleimani

On Wednesday, September 21, the sixth day of the nationwide uprising, continued with protests spreading to different cities and universities.

In Tehran, people demonstrated for the sixth day in different districts and chanted, "This year is a year of sacrifice. Ali (Khamenei) will be overthrown". The people at Highway Park blocked the streets, and in Nazi Abad, youths clashed with repressive forces .

In Tehran, people demonstrated in different districts and chanted, "This year is a year of sacrifice. Seyyed Ali (Khamenei) will be overthrown". By lighting fires, the people at Autobahn Park blocked the streets, and in Nazi Abad, south of Tehran, youths clashed with repressive forces.

“

The supporters of (PMOI / MEK) reported that their channels also widely broadcasted videos of the uprising and police beatings and incite those present in the gatherings to spread these actions.”

MEK

Demonstrations were held in other districts of Tehran, including Azadi Square, Saadat Abad, Janat Abad, Nizam Abad, Parand, Coca-Cola Junction, Robot Karim, Tehran Pars, Hafez Bridge, Enghelab Square, and other places.

In Nazi Abad, repressive forces fired tear gas at people. Demonstrators in Islamshahr were chanting, "Mullahs must get lost." The suppressive forces opened fire on them.

In Urmia (northwest), people protested on Molavi Street in front of Imam Reza Hospital, chanting, "I will kill whoever killed my sister," and "Mullahs must get lost". They freed one of the youths arrested by the suppressive forces while chanting "Shame on you! Shame on you!"

They also stripped one of the SSFs of his uniform and set several motorcycles of the special unit on fire. On Wednesday morning, a large crowd in Urmia bid farewell to a young man killed during the protests in Urmia, chanting "Death to the dictator" and "Death to Khamenei."

In Amol (north), people attacked the city's governor's office and confronted the repressive forces chanting, "Have no fear, we are all together," and took possession of an anti-riot unit vehicle.

In Babol (north), demonstrators set fire to police station 13. In Rasht, SSF shot at people. In Shahesavar the brave youths set fire to the Kiosk of the repressive forces at Imam square. In Lanagrud, people's demonstrations led to clashes with SSF.

In Nowshahr, people protested, chanting "Death to Khamenei" and "Shame on our disgraced leader." The defiant youths set fire to four police cars and attacked the fire engine car that was transporting the security forces.

In Rezvanshahr, demonstrators set fire to Khamenei's banner. In Ghaemshahr, angry residents set fire to the repressive forces' Kiosk.

In Neyshabur, angry people set fire to repressive forces' vehicles. In Tabriz, brave youths protested, chanting "Death to Khamenei" and "Mullahs must get lost," setting fire to repressive forces' car and trailer.

The arisen youth in Tabriz chanted, "We are with people, not with Shah." In Zanjan, the angry people forced the anti-riot forces to flee.

Uprisings were held in other districts of Tehran, including Azadi Square, Saadat Abad, Janat Abad, Nizam Abad, Parand, Coca-Cola Junction, Robot Karim, Tehran Pars, Hafez Bridge, Enghelab Square, & other places. The uprising also continued in different cities .

In Noshahr, people protested, chanting "Death to Khamenei" and "Shame on our disgraced leader." The defiant youths set fire to four police cars and attacked the fire engine car that was transporting the security forces they set fire to Khamenei's banner.

The people of Zarinshahr in Isfahan joined the nationwide uprising by burning Khamenei's banner, and young people clashed with the repressive forces, forcing them to flee. In Zahedan, enraged residents demonstrated in the streets. In Paveh, repressive forces opened fire on protesters.

Demonstrations took place in Isfahan, Qom, Mashhad, Zahedan, Quchan, and Semnan. In Garmsar, the youth set Khomeini's statue on fire.

In Varamin, while chanting "Shame on you! Shame on you!", the youth set fire to the SSF's van, and in Baqir Abad Qarchak, they destroyed a large photo of Khamenei by splashing paint on it.

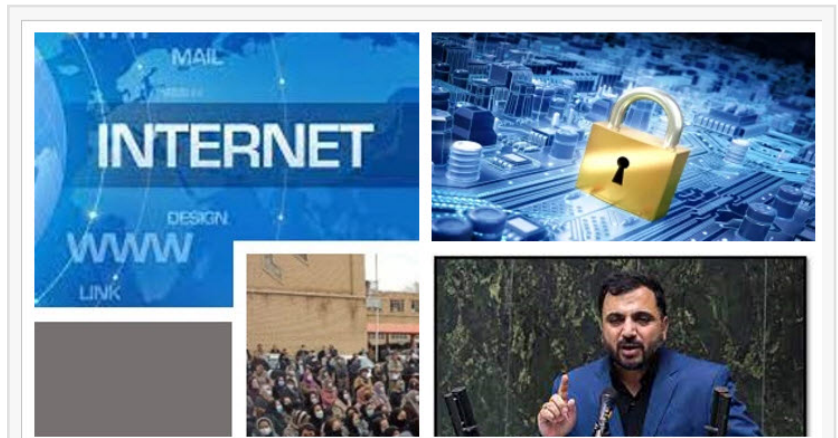

In Sardasht, the angry people clashed with the repressive forces, and while the repressive forces were shooting at the people, the people confronted and forced them to flee.

In Kerman, the demonstrators pulled down the large pictures of Qassem Soleimani from billboards. In Qeshm Island, brave youths attacked a unit of the repressive forces riding on motorcycles and made them flee.

In Kermanshah, the demonstrators clashed with the repressive forces of SSF and, by lighting fire, blocked the path of the regime forces.

On Wednesday morning, Tehran University students staged a protest chanting "Death to the dictator," "Khamenei is a murderer, his rule is null and void," and "All these years of crime, down with this regime."

Basiji agents, while chanting, "Morality police is an excuse, the entirety of the system is the target," attacked the students from behind, but the students resisted.

On Internet restrictions, the State-run Akharin Khabar Telegram quoted Communications Minister Issa Zarepour, as saying "Due to security issues that exist these days, restrictions may sometimes be decided upon and applied by the security agencies."

Maryam Rajavi: " To overthrow the religious dictatorship and establish democracy in Iran, the solidarity among different sectors, students, teachers, educators, farmers, and workers, is a thousand times stronger than Khamenei's repression and terror."

The students of the Allameh University of Tehran chanted, "Death to the dictator," "We are all Mahsa, Fight, and we will fight back," and "We will fight, we will die, and we will take back Iran."

Students of the Al-Zahra University in Tehran joined the protests and chanted, "Mullahs must get lost." Students at the Azad University of Science and Research and Tabriz University of Medical Sciences staged demonstrations.

On Wednesday, in his first speech after the start of the nationwide uprising, Ali Khamenei, the Supreme Leader of the regime, did not make any reference to the protests and the people's anger and hatred against the regime.

On Wednesday, Tasnim News agency, affiliated with the terrorist Quds Force, wrote, "Some people who were present in some areas of Tehran tonight.

were using unprecedented tactics in street battles which were indicative of their previous coordination and training.

Some of the supporters of the People's Mojahedin Organization of Iran \(PMOI / MEK\) reported that their channels also widely broadcast videos of arson and police beatings and incite those present in the gatherings to spread these actions."

In a report on Internet restrictions, the State-run Akharin Khabar Telegram quoted Communications Minister Issa Zarepour, as saying on Wednesday, "Due to security issues and some of the discussions that exist these days, restrictions may sometimes be decided upon and applied by the security agencies."

Referring to the failure of the huge propaganda apparatus of the mullahs, the state-run newspaper Etemad wrote, "Today, the official media – for whatever reason has lost its breath." It is like a house that crumbles brick by brick and collapses."

On September 21, the state-run Mehr news agency wrote, IRGC Colonel Heydari, the commander of the women's special forces unit, said, "For the first time, the women's unit of the special police units entered the field to control the riots. For the first time, we witnessed the presence of women among the people who were disturbing the order and security; some of these women were leaders of the protesters and, in addition to propaganda, they were chanting regime change slogans. It was decided that the women's unit arrest women who were disrupting order and security." He added, "so far, we have arrested eight women who were the leaders of the protests."

Mrs. Maryam Rajavi, the President-elect of the National Council of Resistance of Iran\(NCRI\) saluted the brave protesters all across the country and said that the fighting spirit of women and girls who, in step with freedom-loving youths and men, are forcing the IRGC into retreat with chants of “Death to Khamenei,” heralds the advent of a democratically elected republic based on gender equality and people’s sovereignty.

She added, In the struggle to overthrow the religious dictatorship and establish democracy and popular sovereignty in Iran, the solidarity among different sectors, students, teachers, educators, farmers, and workers, is a thousand times stronger than Khamenei’s repression and terror.

Shahin Gobadi

NCRI

+33 6 61 65 32 31

email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/592409522>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2022 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.