SMOG TECHNICIAN DEFENSE ATTORNEYS HELP LEAD A PATH TO JUSTICE

Here is the background on this release. A hard-working SMOG testing and repair technician may get overwhelmed by the arrival of a Bureau of Auto Repair accusation, suspension, or citation. The charges on an accusation letter can seem ambiguous or confusing to the recipient. Stepping into a courtroom alone could increase one's disadvantage. An unprepared technician could end up being accused of wrongdoing by the Bureau of Auto Repair and lose a SMOG license. An auto shop owner could lose a STAR certification and have to close up a lucrative business. For these reasons, an experienced SMOG technician defense attorney team releases new informational content for the SMOG testing community. A top attorney can help evaluate a case and help defendants find the best path to fight a SMOG accusation in court.
