Relations at SNYK, co-founder at infosec Kids and OWASP Chair of the OWASP Board of directors. Vandana also sat on the review board of Black Hat and CISO Magazine and was previously Security Solution Architect at IBM. Vandana is a pillar of the security community and a well-respected member.

"We are honoured and enthusiastic to welcome Vandana into the Appsec Phoenix family and welcome her years of experience in the technology advisory board," said Francesco Cipollone, CEO and founder of AppSec Phoenix. "Vandana has the unique combination of direct approach, kindness and keen eye on the community that we need to have a thriving board."

"I am thrilled to be part of AppSec Phoenix's advisory board and keen to see it part of the OWASP community," said Vandana " As a cyber security practitioner, I saw first-hand what problem application and operational security have, and appsec phoenix is revolutionizing the way those two teams communicate in terms of risk."

Vandana joins an advisory board that boasts several notable names in the cybersecurity sector, including:

• Andrew Peterson led Signal Science, a leading cybersecurity product, for five years before it sold to Fastly for $775M. Peterson brings startup knowledge, international support, exposure to the US market, and key introductions to customers. His insight into the American market and its current trends and his contacts with venture capitalists provide valuable insight to the advisory team. He also advises several companies and has been instrumental in providing Security Phoenix with key recommendations on getting a head start in product startup and potential pitfalls.
