This inaugural list honors the standout women who are going above and beyond, making strides to promote DEI and gender equity in the tech space and leading the charge for the next generation of women to thrive.

Dawn continually uplifts women, in the tech space and overall. During the past year she has spoken at numerous events and conferences, continuing to spread the word that women have not disappeared from the workforce, we just need to meet them where they are and utilize their abundance of skills and work ethic. Her admirable goal of helping a million women achieve success and financial security is life-changing, for each of the individual women, as well as for the businesses they are completing work for, their local communities, and society - as a whole.

The extensive platform Dawn created utilizes technology, benefiting businesses by increasing their DEI, filling their work gaps, and lowering their overhead, securely and safely. This, in turn, benefits a wide diversity of skilled women, allowing them to provide for themselves and their families, while continuing to be vital contributors to the business landscape.
