Healthcare Systems, a leading healthcare payer technology company and innovator in next generation digital core administrative processing solutions (CAPS), announces an upcoming Price Transparency Compliance webinar on Thursday, October 6th at 11am PT / 2pm ET. The webinar is produced in partnership with payer technology provider Zakipoint Health to showcase and explain a new cost estimator tool designed for payers that is compliant with CMS Price Transparency regulations and can be implemented to work with a core claims platform within 8 weeks.

"While there are many cost estimator tools out there, it can be challenging to get the aggregated data out of the MRFs, have accurate benchmarks, integrate accumulator, plan design and network design data to launch a cost estimator tool in time for the January 1st 2023 deadline established by CMS." said Ramesh Kumar, CEO of Zakipoint Health. "Our cost estimator tool delivers accuracy and speed to market with minimal lift by leveraging a payer company's core claims system and integrations."

Sean Garrett, COO of PLEXIS Healthcare Systems, serving the healthcare payer space for over 24 years, will speak with Ramesh Kumar, host of "Voices of Self-Funding" podcast and co-founder of Zakipoint Health. Ramesh will share practical tips from his experience launching his cost estimator tool with multiple TPAs, integrating various data elements.

"PLEXIS is proud to partner with Zakipoint Health to present their highly accurate, compliant, and easy to use cost estimator tool capable of implementation within 8 weeks." Said Sean Garrett. "Given the shrinking window of time between now and the 2023 deadline, we believe that the Zakipoint Health cost estimator tool may be the price transparency compliance solution needed by TPAs and health plans desiring rapid integration with their core claims processing platform.”
