

Business Partnering Institute Features Acterys in its Latest FP&A Market Guide 2022

BPI, along with the FP&A Guy and Born Capital, has published its latest market guide on 3rd Generation FP&A Tools and featured Acterys as a recommended vendor

NSW , AUSTRALIA, September 29, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The independent market analysts, Business Partnering Institute, recently released their first research report, The FP&A Market Guide 2022, in which Acterys was included as a recommended 3rd Generation FP&A tool. The market guide has been co-authored by the founders of The FP&A Guy and Born Capital.

The market guide evaluated 40+ vendors and shortlisted 15 FP&A tools that fit the 3rd Generation FP&A tool criteria. The criteria included:

- The product fits the 3rd generation definition;
- The vendor has received significant funding or has an innovative product and is looking to scale;
- The product is a financial planning platform.

Acterys was chosen for its planning, visualization, and data warehouse capabilities combined into one holistic platform that allows FP&A teams to get started in minutes. The report further mentioned that Acterys seamlessly integrated into the Microsoft tech stack (Excel, Power BI, Azure). It also highlighted Acterys' Visual Planning functionality that allows users to update scenarios visually and write it back to the data warehouse.

Sharing his delight at this recognition, Martin Kratky, CEO & Founder of Acterys, commented:

"We created Acterys to eliminate the traditional approach of separating data warehousing, planning, and reporting as it creates siloes and a heavy TCO. Now with Acterys, all of these key functions are combined into a single platform, which is easy to implement, backed by the cloud, and could serve the entire marketplace, from small businesses to large enterprises. Due to this unique proposition, Acterys has been consistently recognized by top-tier market analysts and research firms, showcasing the high-value impact it delivers to FP&A teams.”
