Believing in Oneself Can Do Wonders,
Introducing Vehid Abdullahi

Mr. Vehid Abdullahi Received An Award From His Highness Sheikh Hamdan bin Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum TAQDEER AWARD.

The essential key to success is possessing individual personality traits and ensuring that one has the stable belief to make their dreams and goals achievable. It takes confidence, responsibility, self-accountability, faith, and trust to pursue what one dreams. These personality traits emerge as a person grows and develops their routes towards success. Individuals who understand the importance of becoming professional and stable human beings also know that it does not end here. It grows towards helping, motivating, and encouraging others to do the same. One such individual who has managed to stand out through his life experiences and exceptional talent is Vehid Abdullahi.

Staying Firm on His Belief

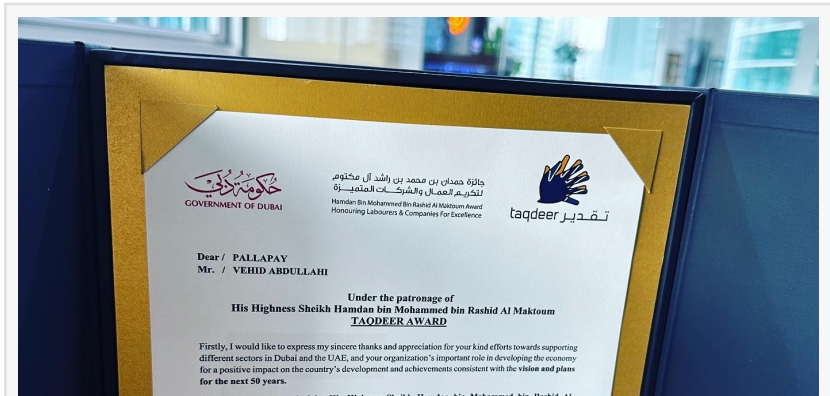

Faith in one's capabilities is essential to believing in oneself. It is being able to rely on yourself to carry out the commitments you make to others and being confident that your efforts will produce the results you want. This suggests that having faith in oneself results from a culmination of several significant psychological experiences, including feelings of autonomy, self-worth, self-confidence, self-trust, self-respect, and power over one's surroundings. When we have faith in ourselves, many positive psychological processes are activated. These processes make it easier to accomplish our objectives, bring our ambitions into reality, and improve our overall health. Vehid's achievements are also a result of his belief in himself.

In 2021, Vehid founded Pallapay, the only payment solution in the Middle East. It allows businesses globally to accept, process, and disburse crypto payments with its product suite, one of the leading payment service providers in the Middle East and the world. In addition to Pallapay, in 2018, he founded Palladium Payment Services LLC, the most convenient, reliable, and secure payment provider for the Middle East. The firm is considered an Authorized Card issuer and Payment Aggregator for UnionPay.

Revolutionizing the Fintech

Innovation is one of the main distinguishing characteristics between conventional and fintech financial services. Because these systems have been established for such an extended period, traditional banking does not often adapt to new developments rapidly. This contrasts with the financial technology industry, which uses modern technologies such as artificial intelligence and cloud computing to develop new products and services. In the end, the goal of fintech is to make your everyday financial life less complicated. Vehid Abdullahi revolutionized the fintech industry with the help of his exceptional skills and experience of more than a decade. With this new firm, Pallapay, he is changing the world of finance and making it easier for everyone to make payments via digital assets.

Vehid Abdullahi is the perfect example of someone who believes in himself and can accomplish marvels. He is one of the most successful people in the world. Since 2012, he has been working with payment processing systems that use cards for various businesses, including brick-and-mortar merchants and online businesses. Ultimately, in 2018, he realized there was an opportunity for him to advance because the global payment system and financial system were transitioning to crypto as it was growing every day. In 2021, he finally founded a crypto payment processing system famously known as Pallapay.
