Brad Rhoades began his art career after a spiritual awakening which led to breaking away from the corporate life into a life of purpose. He found himself with a new passion and direction, which in turn led to the creation of his first art show. Mr. Rhoades has since become a celebrated artist in Orange County, California. His work can currently be seen at the new art gallery in the new Irvine City of Hope Cancer Center. His artwork is displayed on the first and fifth floor.

Mr. Rhoades prefers to work with oil paints as his primary medium. Each thin layer acts as a thin piece of stained glass on a church window, allowing light to pierce through the following layer, thus altering the final image captured by the viewer. As layers grow in thickness, a visual drama unfolds in front of the viewer with subtle hints of allegory, telling a story of connection in life with the Universal Intelligence.

Brad Rhoades' is best known for his original artworks Flow State, I AM, Thrive, and Infinite Light. Mr. Rhoades will be attending the event and providing complimentary signed Art Cards.
