The Keep America Beautiful Vision for America event is a 30-year tradition. After two years of delivering digital experiences, Keep America Beautiful is pleased to be back in person this year for a two-day working and learning event that will highlight the power of tri-sector leadership to urgently address litter eradication to create healthy civic infrastructure, environmental integrity, and community equity.

Litter is a problem to solve but the dialogue is changing. Together we can uncover the future and new paths to a litter-free America.”

Jennifer Lawson, Keep America Beautiful President & CEO

“This year’s Vision represents the core of KAB: service and solution leadership. Aligning both pillars brings fresh and inspiring opportunities to experience and discuss innovations and partnerships for a clean and green America,” said Keep America Beautiful President and CEO,

Jennifer Lawson. “Litter is a problem to solve but the dialogue is changing. Together we can uncover the future and new paths to a litter-free America.”

With the theme “Vision for a Litter-Free America,” Vision 2022 will begin on the afternoon of October 26 with an impact-focused service project with the New York Sanitation Foundation. The day will conclude with a networking and recognition reception.

On October 27, a half-day roundtable event for business, government, and nonprofit leaders to address litter abatement from multiple perspectives will be held at Studio Gather by Tishman Speyer at Rockefeller Plaza. Panels will be focused on pathways, partnerships, and business strategies that engage communities to inspire action and find solutions.

Featured speakers include:

- Tom Szaky, Chief Executive Officer of TerraCycle
- Monique Oxender, Chief Sustainability Officer of Keurig Dr Pepper
- Shannon Reiter, Executive Director of Keep Pennsylvania Beautiful
- Julie Raskin, Executive Director of Sanitation Foundation
- Morgan Berman, Executive Director of Glitter
