Kim Zoller Ted Talk is about...

We are not our emotions, we are not our behaviors. We are habitual beings who many times unknowingly don't allow our brightest inner light to shine. This Ted talk fuses my 30+ years of being in the human potential field with my personal journey around self-love and self-worth. Looking at decisions that diminished my light to now embracing a practice with tactical tools that allows everyone to shine in each moment on the journey.

"This Ted Talk is going to resonate with every person who hears it. Kim's methodology and practice that she offers are life-changing. I know, I implemented it into my life, as well as my kids. I can't wait until this is seen by thousands of people," says Denyse Medlenka, previous CHRO at Chubbies and Solo Brands.

"Kim's STAR Practice is easy to implement and has helped everyone who works for the State of North Dakota who participates in her Mindfulness course three times a week. This helped us through COVID and continues to change people's personal and professional lives," says Denise Osmand North Dakota Department of Transportation, Human Resource Officer II – Leadership & Culture Manager
