Among the many requirements to achieve this status are advanced technical accreditations, which allow ITsavvy to recommend and implement experience-first Juniper solutions for clients.

Juniper offers partner certifications that have allowed ITsavvy to expand professional education, build expertise and access incremental resources. ITsavvy has achieved certification in “Data Center”, “Enterprise Routing and Switching” and “Mist AI.”

- The Data Center certification is designed to help partners with expertise in the data center, help their clients utilize Juniper products to automate the entire network lifecycle.
- The Routing certification supports partners specializing in providing routing solutions to enterprise and service provider clients, such as core-to-edge routing, data center interconnect and traffic management of carrier class and highly robust and available transport networks for critical business services.
- The Mist AI certification helps partners provide client-to-cloud, AI-driven enterprise networking solutions for wireless, wired and SD-WAN through Juniper Mist, the industry’s most advanced AI-enabled platform.
