

Alpine Intel Launched as Insurance Solutions Provider

New parent company formed following CCG IQ and Donan merger

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, October 4, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alpine Intel has been established as the new parent company for insurance services firms HVACi, Donan, and StrikeCheck. The announcement comes as the result of the December 2021 merger of industry innovators CCG IQ and Donan and represents the businesses' continued commitment to leveraging specialized experts and innovative technology to provide high-quality property insurance solutions nationwide.

Announcing the release of Alpine Intel

"Uniting the intelligence of CCG IQ and Donan to form Alpine Intel has allowed us to identify and meet the needs of our carrier partners and their policyholders faster and more efficiently than ever before," Alpine Intel President & CEO Damon Stafford said. "Our incredible forensic talent and subject matter experts are the power behind our success. It's also driven by our technology – the foundation of getting our customers the data they need quickly."

Alpine Intel, headquartered in Charlotte, NC, and Louisville, KY, will continue to expand its offerings and enhance its unique ability to provide customers solutions to reach peak performance throughout the policy life cycle. Its suite of services provides objective equipment and property investigations for insurance companies, investors, law firms, and manufacturers, all serving residential and commercial customers. Clients should continue to rely on existing brands, HVAC Investigators (HVACi); StrikeCheck; and Donan's forensic engineering, fire investigations, and Component Testing Lab (CTL), the way they always have.

- HVACi provides the leading all-in-one HVAC and refrigeration system onsite assessment solution and desktop pricing review option for insurance carriers.
- StrikeCheck provides cost-effective assessment and desktop pricing services for residential and commercial property claims that include electronics and electrically powered specialty items.

Additionally, StrikeCheck's lightning verification reports confirm or exclude lightning's presence for claims with reported surge or lightning as cause of loss.

- Donan's Forensic Engineering team is equipped to investigate every type of peril, including any residential, commercial, industrial, or other property concerns.
- Donan's Fire Investigation team is prepared to investigate any fire assignment in a timely and cost-effective manner, with the highest level of certainty and professionalism.
- Donan's CTL investigates products ranging from large kitchen and laundry appliances to supply lines and plumbing components.

Alpine Intel's commitment to delivering actionable intelligence to help customers is reflected in the name. It's the company's mission to embark on an upward path and be the one true partner in all matters of property claims. Alpine speaks to aspiration and achievement, and Intel expresses the highest possible benefits provided: deep expertise and knowledge and the enhanced confidence to make the best decisions.
