The biggest benefit of using Agorify's ticketing selling software resides in its full integration with our event management platform and app. As soon as an attendee purchases a ticket, they automatically get access to your event within the Agorify event app equipped with 100+ powerful features that will enhance their experience.

"By using our Agorify Event Ticketing Solution we not only help event organizers cut costs, but we also aim to help them improve their work efficiency considering that soon as an attendee purchase a ticket, they are automatically given free access to our Agorify event app. This means less work for the organizer's staff and more features to create a better event experience" - said Kiril Seravall, CEO and Co-founder of Agorify.

With a commission free starting at only 2,89% per ticket, the Agorify event ticketing solution allows you to sell different types of tickets for the same event tailoring different types of customers by enabling you to create multiple pages and list multiple tickets per page.

To maximize the sales strategy, the Agorify event ticketing software also allows event organizers to run discounts on specific pages or on all ticket types.
