

Tax Expert & CPA Phil Liberatore lauds IRS tax relief totaling $1.2 billion

1.6 million taxpayers receiving automatic refunds and credits

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, October 7, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nearly two million US taxpayers are receiving $1.2 billion in credits or refunds thanks to the IRS relief action that tax expert and CPA Phil Liberatore says is long overdue but certainly welcome.

"This is finally some great news from the IRS," Liberatore says, pointing out that the refunds are specifically for the 2019 and 2020 filings. "For anyone who may have been blindsided with a late filing penalty from the IRS—the penalties were automatically assessed, and, in many cases, they were late because the IRS was late in processing them. The IRS is finally owning up to the fact that the taxpayer should have the benefit of the doubt on timely filing and should have some relief when it comes to automatically assessed penalties."

Announced in August, the refunds and credits are part of the federal government's COVID tax relief efforts. Many taxpayers who filed 2019 or 2020 returns late began receiving the automatic refunds at the end of September.

"Throughout the pandemic, the IRS has worked hard to support the nation and provide relief to people in many different ways," said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. "The penalty relief is yet another way the agency is supporting people during this unprecedented time."

The penalty is typically assessed at a rate of 5% per month, up to 25% of the unpaid tax when a federal income tax return is filed late. To qualify for the relief, any eligible income tax return must have been filed on or before September 30, 2022.

Besides providing relief to both individuals and businesses impacted by the pandemic, this step is designed to allow the IRS to focus its resources on processing backlogged tax returns and taxpayer correspondence to help return to normal operations for the 2023 filing season.

The IRS faces ongoing criticism for a backlog of unprocessed tax returns even as Rettig has promised that the pileup will "absolutely" resolve before December. At one point this summer, 8.2 million individual returns filed in 2022 remained unprocessed, according to the IRS, including 6.5 million paper filings.
