The funds we raise at the annual gala are essential to sustaining families during the most trying times of their lives”

Miracles for Kids Co-Founder/CEO Autumn Strier

Gala contributors provide resources that keep the lights on, gas tanks filled, and rent paid so families can focus on what matters: their child's fight for survival. The exclusive Orange County event gathers Southern California icons - modern-day miracle workers who set the financial foundation for Miracles' impactful work.

Anthony Geisler, Founder and CEO of Xponential Fitness, presenting sponsor of the Night of Miracles Gala, commended Miracles for Kids for their ongoing work to fill in gaps for families whose children are critically-ill. “We are honored to be the presenting sponsor again and for the chance to bring on board new sponsors, including Northern Trust,” Geisler said. “It is awe-inspiring to hear the stories of perseverance from these families whose kids are battling critical illnesses. We are proud to support this organization that stands beside families during times of extreme crisis.”

“The funds we raise at the annual gala are essential to sustaining families during the most trying times of their lives,” says Miracles for Kids Co-Founder/CEO Autumn Strier. “It’s an important night of fundraising, but also one for celebration, giving us a chance to show our appreciation to the generous sponsors and donors without whom our work would not be possible.”
