SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, US, October 10, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- James Kahn is excited to announce his contemporary sea shanty album, 'By the Risin' of the Sea,' has been officially submitted to The Recording Academy™, to be included on their first-round ballot for consideration for the upcoming Grammy Awards®, offered in the category of Best Folk Album. We are thrilled to be a part of this!

By the Risin' of the Sea CD Cover

This album is unique in its repurposing of the traditional sea shanty form to address climate change, refugee issues, and other environmental and social crises. Sailors once faced existential threats from the oceans they navigated; we face much greater threats from the rising tides of social change, as well as the rising seas themselves.

Climate change is an existential threat. My hope is that the emotional power of my music can reach people's hearts where news headlines fall short.”
