

Crossroad Sheds Launches New Metal Carports

The versatile metal structures are ideal for protecting cars from harsh weather and can also be used for multiple other purposes.

ARCADIA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, October 10, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Crossroad Sheds, a prominent company in the shed building industry, has recently launched new metal carports with interesting designs and features. Since its inception, the company has been building a variety of high-quality sheds and barns, and with this launch, it aims to provide more options for customers who need a roofed or enclosed parking space.

A standout feature of Crossroad's new carports in Arcadia, FL, much like its other metal structures, is the quality of materials and the level of workmanship that goes into building them. With a commitment to provide excellence in quality and service, the company only uses top-grade materials for building the structures. This combined with a building process that focuses on durability, attention to detail, and quality finishing, the new carports have all the features and qualities people look for including strength, durability, smooth finish, and excellent designs.

The main purpose of these metal carports in Arcadia, FL, is to accommodate vehicles and protect them from harsh weather elements such as rain, direct sunlight, hail, and snow. But this does not limit them from turning them into other useful and creative spaces. They can be turned into a garage, storage buildings, workshop, or hobby room. The option to choose between different designs and configurations such as enclosed or open walls makes them even more versatile for multiple uses.

Crossroad Sheds, in addition to making their new carports affordable, has also offered multiple payment options. The company allows EMI payment exclusively through RTO National. It also offers lease-own options that require no credit. Additionally, the company also provides an option for online credit application for knowing instant approval status online and also in person.

The price of the new carports include installation charges which means that customers do not need to make additional payment for installation. In keeping with their commitment to excellent service, Crossroad Sheds assures the installation of the carports within two weeks of purchase.

During the launch, the company's director Peter Johnson said, "Our metal carports are built with emphasis on quality, durability, function, and design. We use top grade materials for each part of the structure and each part is fabricated with absolute care. Our structures are built and designed to be able to withstand the extreme weather conditions of Florida."
