India Ice Cream Market Size, Trends, Industry Report, Key Player, Major Segments, and Forecast

The key highlights of the report include:

Market Overview (2017-2027)

Historical Market Size (2020): INR 201.4 Billion

Forecast CAGR (2021-2026): 14%

Forecast Market Size (2026): INR 442 Billion

The demand for ice cream in India is being driven by the hot and humid climate in the country, improving power supply facilities in villages, increasing penetration of push-cart workforce in the urban areas, and the thriving travel and leisure activities in the country. Post-COVID induced lockdown, the reopening of restaurants, pubs, hotels, and schools and colleges, have been propelling the demand for ice-creams.

In addition to this, the ramp-up of marketing strategies by the major ice-cream companies, such as Mother Dairy, is anticipated to boost the market growth in the forecast period. The progressive innovations of ice cream products, such as low-sugar ice-creams for diabetics, is likely to be a major driving factor of ice-cream market in India.

India Ice Cream Industry Definition and Major Segments

Ice cream is defined as a sweet frozen dessert which contains milk, cream, and sugar as the basic ingredients, along with some flavouring. Air is crucial for making ice cream as it affects the density and heaviness of the ice cream. The amount of milkfat and sugar content in an ice cream depends upon the variety of the product. Commercially sold ice creams must contain a minimum of 10% milk fat.
