CEN Biotech, Inc. (OTCQB: CENBF) is a global holding company based in Ontario, Canada focused on the development of leading-edge digital media technologies with artificial intelligence, LED lighting, and other high-value ventures.

On September 7th CENBF announced that the company had been uplisted to the OTCQB Venture Market tier after a diligent period of completing all required financial audits and corporate re-structuring. For this painstaking process, CENBF signed on the highly regarded auditing firm Olayinka Oyebola & Company of Houston, TX, and Securities Counsel Anthony L.G. PLLC of West Pam Beach, FL.

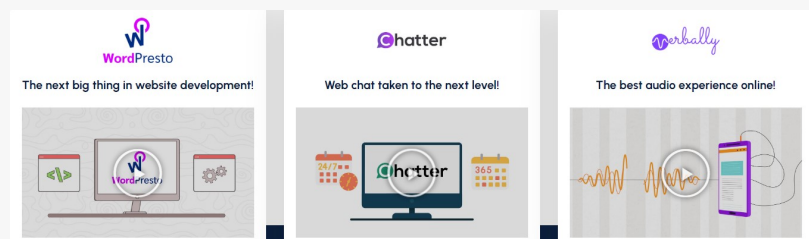

CENBF has an attractive share structure with only about 62 million shares outstanding making this a lean stock that can climb easily as buying pressure comes in. In conjunction with its new business plans, CENBF has begun the process of seeking to complete a company name change that will be appropriate to its forward-looking objectives. CENBF management intends to focus mainly on the digital media and technology space with the launch of technology products, beginning at this time.

Pending Launch of WordPresto

CENBF has announced the planned launch of its newest technology product, WordPresto (www.wordpresto.com) was set for September 28, 2022. This launch event was also set up to be broadcast on both Facebook Live and YouTube live to highlight WordPresto's capabilities aiming to revolutionize the web design market and to address the needs for scalable and affordable web design.

CENBF Team

CENBF Services Suite

Word Presto is a product and a service that provides people with a customized web design experience coupled with affordable ongoing support and maintenance. Our team works from the ground up to quickly and affordably create an eloquent website that gives users a custom look and feel. With Word Presto all you need to do is communicate your needs, provide some ongoing feedback and let our experts do the rest.

It starts with selecting a website package that best suits your company's needs based on the industry, overall goals and objectives, and other marketing efforts that are in place. Each website package includes image and software licensing, professional design and development, updates and security patches, enterprise hosting, project management and award-winning ongoing support and maintenance.

Chatter

Chatter is a powerful and flexible web chat software and service that is tailored to the needs of the small and medium size enterprise. Chatter provides a unique chat platform that makes it possible for any organization to implement web chat on their website or engage in online messaging with either Facebook or Instagram messenger. It also has the unique bonus of having the ability to respond to chats on their own or direct any incoming chat to be responded to by our team of chat agents. This hybrid model of responding to chats is a unique feature and selling point of the Chatter product and service.

Chatter's base software is also free to use for those organizations that plan to simply respond to their own web and Facebook chats. This makes it an attractive option for any organization that is seeking to utilize web chat for their business. In future releases, Chatter will have the ability to engage in dynamic online conversion using our A.I. technology to drive further online engagement that is unique for every client.

Some of the high-level features and advantages of Chatter include the following:

- A powerful and free self-serve turnkey chat solution for your website, Facebook, and Instagram messages.
- An available network of highly skilled and experienced chat professionals to respond to those chats from your website, or Facebook and Instagram messages, when you want and need us to do so.
- An affordable and feature rich cloud-based software where you can have a chat solution fully operational in less than 15 minutes.
- Access to build a powerful knowledge base to respond to common questions and concerns for current customers and potential client questions.

CENBF AI Tech

The launch event was hosted by Larry Lehoux, the CENBF President, and Chief Technology Officer, who states "WordPresto is the first scheduled launch of a new line of products which are in the process of being developed by CENBF. We are very excited to bring forth and continue seeking to develop leading consumer and business-focused products that utilize Artificial Intelligence-based technologies designed to make website development and maintenance more efficient and affordable. CENBF has fully embraced the power of Artificial Intelligence and intends to design a series of products and services that utilize A.I. technologies to make everyday life easier, more efficient informative, and entertaining."

From the CENBF WordPresto Website Users Can Select Custom Options

An Hour of Maintenance

All CENBF website hosting packages come included with one hour of design or development time. This means that users have an hour per month of CENBF team's time to make changes to their website at no additional cost. For example, this could be something like changing images and text or updating a contact form. Priority development time is based on the subscription type.

Core Plugin Licensing and Updates

If the user's website is using a Core Plugin they will never have to worry about it expiring. CENBF offers Core Plugin Licensing and Updates so that users can keep your plugin up-to-date and functional.

Image Licensing

When users need a high-quality image for their website, CENBF saves them tons of money. CENBF offers a large library of images that can be used on your website, and licensing is included.

Add-on Services

Upgrade to user's websites or online presence with any of the CENBF available add-ons.

Enhanced SEO

With the enhanced SEO offering, CENBF will do all the legwork on the backend, so the user's new website comes complete with all on-site SEO elements completed and optimized for your business and location. This will significantly increase users' chances of ranking higher on Google.

Website Text Content

Writing website text can be a lengthy and tedious process. CENBF marketing experts write the users' text for them.

With just a few basic details the CENBF team puts together highly optimized text, which saves users time and streamlines their website for more phone calls and form fills.

Additional Storage

For hosting large files, or doing any sort of data sharing, users may require more storage than the average website. CENBF has made this an easy add-on for our customers who require something beyond what's included in a standard website storage setup.

Custom Built Solutions

WordPresto does it all. Custom things that fall outside of standard offering include:

- eCommerce websites
- Custom plugin development
- Large enterprise websites
- Third-party website integrations (CMS, databases, etc.)
