

Life Elements and Partner Driftless Extracts Advocate for Sustainable Agriculture in Celebration of National Farmers Day

In celebration of National Farmers Day, Life Elements and farming partner, Driftless Extracts, advocate for sustainable agricultural practices and programs.

ATASCADERO, CALIFORNIA, USA, October 12, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Life Elements has aggressively committed to serve the environment by responsibly sourcing sustainable, clean, ingredients used to create the most effective and what they consider, the best natural CBD products on the market. In addition, Life Elements has actively implemented practices to reduce its carbon footprint. Eco-conscious efforts include the creation of Life Elements Refillable program, the use of compostable stand up bags, the use of Eco Smart® vessels and the debut of mushroom packaging within its CBD Bath Bomb Collection to encourage zero waste packaging. The company understands its successful position in global markets is intertwined with their relationships with the many biodynamic and regenerative U.S. farms that grow and provide much of the raw ingredients found in Life Elements' wellness products.

heritage in producing the highest quality seeds and crops. Based in Plain, Wisconsin, Driftless Extracts uses organic, GMP, and kosher certified processes and has implemented a robust track-and-trace program resulting in the highest quality Full and Broad Spectrum CBD. Life Elements' Founder and President, Martha Van Inwegen is pleased to work with the Driftless team, affirming, "We appreciate knowing that our hemp extract was grown organically and sustainably from a family operation."

Driftless Extracts advocates for sustainable farming and crops that can ignite agricultural economies. Investing in hemp cultivation is one such effort. The Driftless team networks with a host of family-owned farms that produce certified organic hemp to produce cannabinoid extracts and powders as well as hemp-fiber products. Driftless is also entrenched in research, development and advocacy efforts in the hemp fiber and sustainable materials manufacturing industry. "When we originally researched Life Elements, we were immediately impressed with Curt and Martha's ability to build a brand that practices what they preach", says Joe Liegel, Group Product Manager at Driftless Extracts. "This is a brand led by two people that care and respect the earth deeply. They believe in our goal to develop 21st century agricultural practices that focus on soil health and sequestering carbon. "

The two organizations celebrate their shared ethos valuing quality, honesty, and service as family businesses honoring the health of the planet. On National Farmers Day, Life Elements is proud to bring awareness to sustainable agriculture and wishes to honor their relationship with Driftless Extracts and their eco-conscious efforts.
