

RealtyJuggler Offers Fall Database Cleanup and eCard Training for Agents

FORT COLLINS, COLORADO, USA, October 13, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, RealtyJuggler Real Estate CRM announced the availability of a new one-on-one training focused on cleaning up your real estate database, sending an eCard, as well as printing labels for Christmas cards. This latest training is in addition to onboarding and tune-up training already available. "The combination of sending a holiday eCard email and a physical Christmas card is the easiest way to keep your database accurate. RealtyJuggler can automate this process, giving you peace of mind that your database is up to date." explains Scott Schmitz, RealtyJuggler's president and co-founder.

Each year between 10-20% of your email addresses will go bad, as people switch email accounts. People typically spend an average of less than 8 years in their homes before moving. Renters move even more frequently. This means that your mailing address information also need to be updated periodically. The quickest way to identify people who have changed either their email or physical address is to send them something using RealtyJuggler Real Estate Software.

This new complimentary one-on-one training session takes approximately one hour and provides hands-on help in getting your database ready for a mailout. Before the end of training, you will have the opportunity to schedule an eCard for Halloween, Fall, or Thanksgiving, and print mailing labels for your Christmas cards.

Contact RealtyJuggler now to schedule your training session. Fall Database Cleanup training is
