The key players operating in the sports sunglasses industry include Adidas AG (Adidas), Luxottica, PUMA SE, Nike, Inc., Decathlon SA, Under Armour, Inc., Titan Company Limited, Liberty Sports, Inc., Yiwu Conchen Glasses Co., Ltd., and Safilo Group S.p.A.

The global per capita income has witnessed a strong growth rate over the past few years, particularly in the emerging economies. Developing countries offer lucrative sports sunglasses market opportunity. Increase in urbanization and growth of the middle class consumers in the developing and developed markets have encouraged the adoption of convenience-oriented lifestyles, making sports sunglasses more desirable for all age group people especially for youngsters.

Moreover, rise in trend of usage of sports sunglasses with retro cat-eye lenses, round & transparent lenses, sunglasses with a chain, hexagon lenses, and visor sports sunglasses drives the growth of the sports sunglasses market trends. Availability of these sunglasses in various attractive designs such as streamlined design, wraparound frame, curved shape design, and others is becoming the point of attraction for customers which further drives the sports sunglasses market. In addition, increase in interest of children, teens, and adults toward sports activities also augments the growth of the sports sunglasses market.

Sports sunglasses have become technologically advanced owing to continuous innovation by manufacturers. Moreover, now-a-days lenses are designed from shatter resistant and lightweight polycarbonate and nylon lens material to enhance comfort and provide better protection and coverage to the players. However, these sunglasses can cause allergy to eyes or can cause skin irritation to some players where the glasses contact the skin.

This irritation is known as contact dermatitis. This allergy occurs due to the presence of potential allergens such as rubber, plastics, solvents, dyes, waxes, metals, plasticizers, cosmetics, nickel, UV stabilizers, and plastics in the sports sunglasses. These allergens result in eyewear allergies like itchininess discoloration, tearing, light sensitivity, blisters, ring-shaped rash around the eyes, redness, swelling, irritation, sores, and rash. Hence, the prevalence of these allergies in the population hampers the sports sunglasses market growth rate.
