

Californians Leaving the Golden State In Search Of New Opportunity

LAKE FOREST, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, October 18, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- For years, California has been known as a place of opportunity – a land of dreams where people from all over the world come to make their fortune. But the tables have turned indeed. The Golden State is no longer the land of milk and honey it once was. A report by real estate site Zillow found that droves of Californians are leaving for states like Texas, Virginia, Washington and Florida. The reason? People are in search of more space, and a lesser tax burden.

With opportunities to work remote being adopted by more and more employers, interstate moves are becoming more appealing. If you can move anywhere in the world and keep your job, why not find your dream home now?

Terry Moving & Storage has been helping families relocate all over the U.S. for over 25 years. “I love helping people pursue their dreams — and feeling like we played a small part in their success.” Said Mark Terry (Owner).

The Lake Forest, California moving and storage company handles interstate moves from California to Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Oregon, Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. Plus, they offer storage solutions for both buyers and sellers – so whether you're making a long-distance move or just need somewhere to put your belongings while you get settled in your new home, there's an option for you with Terry Movers.

Terry Moving and Storage is proud to open 200 brand new vaults this November! Their secure, climate controlled personal storage vaults provide an easy way for busy families to store their belongings without having to worry about packing or moving them themselves, especially during the holiday season.
