“The partnership is an industry alliance that will drive effective and elegant workforce solutions for our clients globally,” says deSilva. “Our ability to design exceptional, creative solutions will be expanded by Zaddons' innovative add-ons.”

Zaddons, founded in 2019, has made a notable mark in the WFM arena in a short time with its powerful, integrated HRIS extensions built to streamline complex scheduling and bidding processes.

importantly—customer centricity.”

The partnership could not have come at a better time. With WFM technology playing an increasingly critical role globally, more companies recognize the competitive need to customize their WFM platforms as much as possible for peak ROI.

Zaddons and Improv have increased their services amidst massive post-pandemic shifts in workforce norms.

Zaddons recently created a Schedule Bidding add-on to help businesses efficiently assign work schedules by automating and simplifying the schedule bidding process. The bidding add-on complements Zaddons’ employee self-serve and scheduling add-ons.

Improv recently rolled out its Flex Support program that offers fast, quality UKG support options to UKG customers. The program zeroes in on solving UKG knowledge and staffing gaps for clients who need to optimize their platforms or those preparing to move from UKG Workforce Central to UKG Dimensions.
