About Texas Muslim Women's Foundation (<https://tmwf.org/>)

In 2005, against the backdrop of a post 9/11 world, Dr. Hind Jarrah, Ph.D., assembled a diverse group of Muslim women in the North Texas region. Their objective was to serve the local community while representing a positive example of Muslims - specifically, Muslim women.

In assessing the needs of the community, the following became clear: Muslim victims of domestic violence were in dire need of culturally specific and trauma-informed services. With these varying needs in hand, the Texas Muslim Women's Foundation was formed. TMWF aimed to promote peace and understanding within the family unit and across the many diverse communities in North Texas. As they have grown, they have expanded its services and outreach beyond North Texas and to the rest of the nation.
