

Weiner Team Announces UMass Speech Featured on Democracy, Opeds Ukraine Nuclear Site Diplomacy, Supreme Court, More

WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, UNITED STATES, October 19, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With the midterms just a couple weeks away, Robert Weiner gave an invited History Department speech at the University of Massachusetts Amherst covered as lead under-the-masthead in the regional press on "Democracy in Real Danger" and what can be done. The Weiner Public News team also announced several nationally featured op-eds including a piece with policy analyst/intern Joshua Himelfarb for The Washington Diplomat, and

Robert Weiner

OpedNews on how the dangers of nuclear civilian sites in Ukraine need immediate diplomacy. Weiner also wrote a piece with Henry Deng on how Biden's Supreme Court report got little attention, and Weiner and Deng laid out why Congress must act to improve the Court's legitimacy. Weiner also announced a recent appearance on GBN (British network TV news) to discuss national issues and Main Street Radio Network to discuss recent op-eds.

Even though the power is back on, Europe's largest nuclear power plant, Zaporizhzhya, which is surrounded by Russian troops, has lost all external power for safety systems twice in five days. Russian nearby shelling and troop ineptness around the plant are at fault. Despite international calls for demilitarization in these areas, it has not happened, and the region and the world are at risk.

October 13: Biden's Court Report Took Reform Nowhere, Congress Must Act to Avoid Clear Politics and Restore Support for the Court by Robert Weiner and Henry Deng in OpEdNews

So far this year, as conservatives are funneling another 1.6 billion dollars to Leonard Leo on his conservative judicial nominee list campaign, simply electing Democrats is not enough. We must demand that our legislators push legislative efforts to reform the Supreme Court to promote basic fairness in the Supreme Court and the necessary justice for every American.

September 2: As the Youth Voter Registration Coordinator at the Watergate DNC/YD HQ in 1971-72, Weiner recently wrote in The Washington Post that getting out the youth vote requires issues and effort. This year, young people care about climate change with the planet at stake, school gun deaths, abortion choice, student loans, jobs, rent prices escalating, inflation, the survival of our democracy and a lot more. Bringing those issues home requires tremendous effort from both parties, with a huge campaign we lay out. Here's the article:
