Global Casein and Caseinates Market Trends:

The increasing consumer health consciousness and the inflating disposable income levels have led them to incorporate protein-rich food items in their diets, which is among the primary factors driving the casein and caseinates market. Besides this, the escalating demand for personal grooming and the widespread adoption of high-quality organic personal care products are further augmenting the market growth. Moreover, the growing popularity of casein and caseinates in baby food, infant formula, sports nutrition products, etc., owing to their high texturing capacity, enhanced melting properties, good emulsification and water absorption abilities, etc., is also catalyzing the global market. Apart from this, the rising utilization of hydrolyzed casein for clinical purposes, on account of its solubility and enzymatic digestion qualities, is acting as another significant growth-inducing factor. Furthermore, the elevating need for dietary supplements and health drinks is expected to bolster the casein and caseinates market in the coming years.
