

The Automotive Repair And Maintenance Market Is Focused On Growing The Sustainability Core

The Business Research Company's Automotive Repair And Maintenance Market Report - Opportunities And Strategies - Global Forecast To 2030

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, October 24, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A growing sense of sustainability and a focus on reducing waste will result in more automotive vehicle repairs, which will drive the market for the automotive repair and maintenance market size during the forecast period.

Automotive waste from disposed vehicles and their parts is one of the emerging problems in developed and developing countries worldwide. This waste can have an adverse impact on human health and the environment because it can contain toxic substances. The car recycling industry is the 16th largest in the US, contributing $25 billion a year to the national GDP. Every year, more than 14 million tons of recycled steel are derived from junk vehicles. On average, a car has around 25% of its body made from recycled steel. People are also showing concern for environmental pollution for their discarded automotive products, thus trying to repair their automotive parts, which is driving the market growth.

The global automotive repair and maintenance market size is expected to grow from $0.75 trillion in 2021 to $1.24 trillion in 2026 at a rate of 10.5%. The global automotive repair and maintenance market share is then expected to grow at a CAGR of 10.9% from 2026 and reach $2.08 trillion in 2031.

Big data analytics is rapidly being implemented in the automotive repair and maintenance market as it allows service providers to improve real-time transportation operations and planning and to predict operations. Big data analytics is a process of examining large amounts of data to understand market patterns, correlations, trends, and customer preferences to improve decision-making. Companies in the automotive repair and maintenance market utilize big data analytics to analyze the factors that impact the demand for taxis; to determine where most pickups and drop-offs are located based on the customers' locations; and to perform effective congestion management, traffic control, and delivery planning. The technology also allows companies to reduce operational costs by reducing errors, analyzing the journey, and detecting and minimizing revenue drops.
