LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, October 25, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- PLUSnxt, leading electronic discovery services and solutions provider, today announced it has earned its RelativityOne Data Migration Competency. Through this Competency, Relativity acknowledges that PLUSnxt has exhibited an enhanced level of proficiency in data migration services. With the Data Migration Competency, PLUSnxt has demonstrated their knowledge of RelativityOne best practices for data migration and has proven customer satisfaction with data migration work. Partners with this Competency provide expanded or enhanced offerings of value for data migrations, including but not limited to customized workflows or applications.

With our excellent client communication, attention to detail and logical thinking, we have successfully completed countless, large data migration projects in a highly efficient manner”

Darren Bui, Solutions Architect, PLUSnxt

In addition to passing a complex scenario exercise on data migration, partners must provide Relativity with at least four unique client references and be a published thought leader in the solution area to achieve the RelativityOne Data Migration Competency. These clients and projects came from a variety of backgrounds and required different solutions that PLUSnxt was able to deliver with the help of the RelativityOne tools.

“Coupling RelativityOne’s existing migration tools with our excellent client communication and our extreme attention to detail and logical thinking, we have successfully completed countless, large data migration projects from many different platforms to our RelativityOne instances in a highly efficient manner,” commented Darren Bui, PLUSnxt’s Solutions Architect.
