

Sponsor of the International Religious Freedom Act on Truth & Liberty Coalition Livecast

WOODLAND PARK, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, October 26, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Scheduled on next Monday's livecast is Sam Brownback who served as Ambassador at Large for International Religious Freedom from February 2018 to January 2021. He served as Governor of Kansas from 2011 to 2018.

Prior to that he represented his home state in the United States Senate and the House of Representatives. While a member of the Senate, he worked actively on the issue of religious freedom in multiple countries and was a key sponsor of the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998.

Prior to his public service, Ambassador Brownback practiced law and taught agricultural law at Kansas State University. He earned a B.S. from Kansas State University and a J.D. from the University of Kansas.

Ambassador Brownback currently serves as co-chair of the International Religious Freedom Summit and is also chairman of the National Committee for Religious Freedom (NCRF).

According to recent media reports, JPMorgan Chase Bank allegedly closed the bank account of the NCRF and demanded a list of its donors as a condition to have the account reinstated.

"We went into a Chase branch in the District of Columbia to open an account, no problem,"

Brownback said. "Then, several weeks later, I went to put another deposit in the account, and they said, 'Your account has been canceled, we'll be sending your money back to you.'"

The weekly Truth & Liberty Coalition global livecast is hosted by Andrew Wommack and Richard Harris. Andrew Wommack is president and founder of the Truth & Liberty Coalition, Andrew Wommack Ministries, and Charis Bible College. Richard Harris is executive director for the Truth & Liberty Coalition.
