The one-on-one classes are based on a modern Albanian language curriculum, complete with rigorous training in grammar, structure, and vocabulary. In the platform's most recent news, Learn Albanian is excited to inform the public that it is now offering a free Albanian lesson to new users. The lesson is a full one-hour class that not only engages students in learning the language but is also an opportunity to determine which lesson plan will best suit their needs.

"Typically, students must pay for any lesson, including their first," says founder of Learn Albanian, Matty Kryemadhi. "While we understand the rationale behind this, our team believes students and their families shouldn't have to pay for the initial lesson and assessment – especially with the mounting global cost-of-living crisis. We understand that money is tight for everyone right now and we want to do our part to make learning Albanian affordable for all."

To date, Learn Albanian has been featured on a number of reputable websites, including Quora, Reddit, Trustpilot, and BuzzFeed, just to name a few.
