We are thrilled with this honor. I think the award serves as validation of our company's commitment to INSURICA's colleagues – our most valuable asset.”

Mike Ross

“We are thrilled with this honor,” Ross said. “I think the award serves as validation of our company's commitment

Ross acknowledged the highly competitive post-Covid employment environment in which all insurance agencies find themselves today.

“It's a challenge, retaining the years of experience we have here while hiring the next generation of INSURICAns to handle the needs of our growing agency,” Ross said. “I'm thankful for the culture that we've cultivated over the decades. It's truly the foundation upon which this agency is built.”

The Insurance Journal article said INSURICA's “community culture was a top rave given to the company by the dozens of employees who nominated the firm.”

INSURICA, headquartered in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, is among the 50 largest insurance brokers in the United States and is currently the 29th largest privately held independent agency in the country with offices located throughout Oklahoma, Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Kansas, Mississippi and Texas.
