For Teens: Possway V4 PRO Electric Skateboard

Original Price: $449

Black Friday Price: $329 ($120 off)

Many riders call this board "the best electric skateboard for teens and kids under $400."

As you know now, most electric skateboards can be dangerous, especially for children still learning how to ride. Furthermore, cheaper brands can save you money yet can be dangerous for your children, and also, you would certainly not wish to take that risk.

The 400W x 2 double hub electric motors provide high-grade power, and the top speed reaches 23mph or 38kmp, which suffices for young riders.

You can also switch this skateboard to cruise control depending on just how fast or slow you want it to go.

The Possway V4 Pro comes with a 100.8 Watt-hour battery pack. This is enough power to cover 13 km or 8 miles.

Furthermore, this battery has a small layout making the board portable. You can even carry the skateboard without difficulties if you tire of riding it or the battery is dead.
